Stabilizing Style

If you can't tell the 1971 car models from those of 1970, or even earlier years, don't be unhappy. They really don't look very different.

As a story in this newspaper noted the other day, Detroit's car makers have quietly been deemphasizing styling changes for the past several years. Oh, they've made a few changes in the grilles and chrome, but major alterations have been getting rarer.

Ford Motor Co. in its annual report confirmed the trend, observing that a major reason was cost control. The current upturn in auto sales, though, indicates that more style stability isn't exactly unpopular with the public.

The car makers thus may have found that they can help themselves and also please the customers by avoiding regular, radical change. The lady at our house wishes the women's fashion industry would get the same idea. — Wall Street Journal

Didja Know?

Did you know that it would take 27,794,920,902,600,000 snowflakes to cover the State of Tennessee? Well, it would. A group of mathematicians, using computers, has calculated that that would be the number of flakes necessary for a uniform 10-inch statewide blanket.

Oh yes, if anyone wants to challenge the figure the mathematicians arrived at, address your correspondence to the editors of National Review, 150 East 35th Street, New York, New York 10016. They've been snowing people for a long time. — Nashville (Tenn.) Banner

If Only It Tastes Good

Books of postage stamps that have been treated with a new adhesive are going on sale in 17 test cities across the nation. Because the adhesive is resistant to humidity, the need for putting separating tissue between the stamps has been eliminated. The U.S. Postal Service estimates this will mean an overall savings of $75,000 in reduced assembly costs and cost of the treated paper. Not much, perhaps, compared with the total postal budget, but still nothing to stick your tongue out at. — Savannah (Ga.) Evening Press

Nixon Sends Up Lockheed Bailout Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the face of toughening resistance on Capitol Hill, President Nixon has sent to Congress his legislative request to save Lockheed Aircraft Corp. with $250 million in loan guarantees.

Secretary of the Treasury John B. Connally said Thursday the administration hopes for prompt consideration of the measure to keep the big defense contractor solvent.

Lockheed isn't named in the bill, but Connally said almost all the guarantee authority would be for Lockheed loans.

Under several restrictions proposed by the administration, the loans would have top repayment priority, even if lenders held other Lockheed notes or if the company went bankrupt.

The loans are limited to five years. They could be renewed under option for an additional five years. The government would retain the right to inspect Lockheed books and reject disposition of assets endangering repayment.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., has termed the proposal "bad economics, had public policy and bad news for the American taxpayer."

Connally said, however, Lockheed will go broke if it doesn't get the needed money.

The company's financial troubles came when the British firm Rolls-Royce Ltd., went into receivership. Rolls manufactures jet engines for Lockheed's TriStar Airbus.

Lowgrading Congress to Spell Trouble

—Fulbright

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman J.W. Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee told Secretary of State William P. Rogers today that executive resistance to the current reassertion of congressional authority could produce a dangerous reaction on Capitol Hill.

The warning was in Fulbright's opening statement for an appearance by Rogers to give the Nixon administration's position on legislation to curb presidential authority to commit U.S. troops without congressional approval.

Rogers was expected to oppose the measures proposed by Sens. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., Thomas F. Eagleton, D-Mo., and John C. Stennis, D-Miss., that would limit such authority to 30 days and only under certain specific circumstances.

Fulbright noted "The pendulum has begun to swing away from the dangerous practice of presidentially initiated warfare. 'If the executive branch undertakes to thwart the current effort to restore constitutional balance by all the considerable means at its disposal,' the Arkansas Democrat added, 'it is entirely possible that Congress will be driven to employ some of the unused means at its disposal, and that, as a result, the pendulum will swing too far, carrying us toward the kind of overbearing congressional role which resulted in the rejection of the League of Nations in 1919.'

"If, on the other hand," the chairman went on, "the executive chooses to be forthcoming, and cooperates with us in the restoration of Congress' proper authority in matters of war and peace, it should be possible to construct a relationship of balance and trust between the two branches of government."

N.L.R. Adopts Integration Plan

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The North Little Rock School Board adopted a desegregation plan Thursday for secondary schools that calls for the reopening of Jones Junior High School. Under the plan, the district's entire seventh grade enrollment would attend Jones. All eighth and ninth graders will attend the district's other four junior highs—Jefferson Davis, Ridgewood, Lakewood and Rose City. Student assignments to the two high schools will not be affected.

What to Do About a Rainy Day: Some Tips From Old Man Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Every life, old or young, has its rainy days, and the problem is what to do about them.

The brave man's way, of course, is to pay no attention to the weather, storm boldly out into the rain, get your head wet and end up in bed for a week with an attack of pneumonia or a heavy cold.

The coward's solution—one I rather fancy myself—is to pull the bedsheet over your head and stay there until better times come along and the sun shines once more.

But there are a lot of things you can do when life clouds over and heaven leaks on you, whether you are one of the just or the unjust. For example, you might:

Go up to the attic and thumb through your high school annual and marvel at how far apart your ears used to be.

Add an insult to an injury and find out what happens.

Learn to play Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata" on the zither.

Sweep a new problem under the rug, and throw an old one

Smithsonian Wants Samples of Early Mechanical Devices

By DONALD SANDERS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — IF you have an electric egg beater that dates back to before World War I, the Smithsonian Institution would like to hear from you.

They could put it in a display of an oldtime kitchen alongside their newly acquired 1894 electric fan and 1908 electric toaster.

The Smithsonian's Museum of History and Technology is planning to open within the coming year a new hall of electricity, one section of which will be devoted to early electrical appliances.

A small collection of them was presented to the Smithsonian Thursday by the General Electric Co. and its employees. GE replaced with modern appliances any it found suitable.

The oldest of these is a 10-inch fan with six blades, from about 1894, the first made by GE to operate on alternating current rather than batteries. It was made to operate on 104 volts, and since present voltages are somewhat higher, a voltage regulator was used to demonstrate it. The fan still runs remarkably quiet. GE officials on hand weren't sure why it had six blades or why later models usually had four.

Also in working order was a toaster with a white porcelain base, dating from 1908. Two upright wire racks hold two pieces of bread near the heating elements. It toasts two slices of bread one side at a time, and turning the bread to do the other side without burning your fingers is a bit tricky.

The toaster sold for $3.50, a deluxe decorated model for $4.50. The cord was extra, at $1.

There is an electric iron from 1905, with no choice of temperature and a triple-unit heater with three translucent heating bulbs. Unlike the iron, it has a choice of three heats and weighs 46 pounds. It dates from 1919.

More recent is a 1924 waffle iron made by Hotpoint, now a part of GE. To use it you need two cords, one for the bottom grid and one for the top. And there's a 1926 vacuum cleaner, with a cloth bag that had to be wiped by hand.

Amtrak's Start Blasted by Authors

By CARL C. CRAFT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The two top congressional authors of the law to salvage rail passenger service have sent Amtrak's boss a blistering letter detailing their displeasure over how the new corporation is being run.

"There is time to correct the grievous errors that have occurred," Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., and Rep. Harley O. Staggers, D-W.Va., told Amtrak President and Board Chairman Roger Lewis, "and we herewith urge you to take appropriate and swift action."

"If the corporation is to get off to a good start," they wrote Lewis Thursday night, "there are certain immediate changes in policy that are essential."

The House is considering a Senate-passed resolution "designed to tell the corporation to do what it should have done anyway," added the leaders of the committees that created the 1970 Rail Passenger Service Act. Magnuson heads the Senate Commerce Committee; Staggers the House counterpart.

"The directive is for the corporation to look at potential service outside of that now being provided and to advise Congress about the cost and potential of such service," the chairmen told the leader of the government-backed corporation which took over most of the nation's intercity passenger train operations on May 1.

"The point is that Congress should not have to pry this kind of information loose," they said. "We urge that this ridiculous situation be changed without delay."

"We are not at all satisfied with preliminary information received thus far about start-up costs for the corporation," Magnuson and Staggers told Lewis.

"When it comes to lawyers and press relations, the corporation seems to have lost its status as pauper but rather is operating as if it were turning a huge profit."

"The attitude of bargaining should be adopted immediately by the corporation," they said.

Egyptian Shakeup Spells Power Play

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Observers today viewed the sweeping shakeup in the Egyptian Cabinet as a purge by President Anwar Sadat to solidify his control.

Six cabinet ministers, including the defense minister, T. Gen. Mohamed Fawzi, resigned Thursday night along with three high-ranking officials of the Arab Socialist Union, Egypt's only political party.

Cairo Radio broadcast a statement by Industry Minister Aziz Sidky, a Sadat supporter, appealing to the Egyptian people to maintain national unity "in the face of those trying to sow sedition in the ranks."

Sadat scheduled a broadcast tonight. It was the first major breach among Egypt's leaders to come to the surface since Sadat took over in September after the death of President Gamal Abdel Nasser. The rift began with Sadat's firing of Ali Sabry, his pro-Soviet vice president, earlier this month.

Although more dismissals or resignations had been expected, Israelis and other Arab watchers were surprised at the extent of the shakeup and especially by the resignation of Fawzi, who was not known to have any pronounced political leanings. Informed sources said he apparently had been working smoothly with Sadat on strategy against Israel.

Israeli experts on Arab affairs said all of those who resigned leaned toward extremist and pro-Moscow lines. "This is a bitter pill which the Soviets will have to swallow—and still keep silent," wrote Oded Zorai of the newspaper Haaretz.

Ehud Yaari of the semi-official Davar said the shakeup was "tantamount to a coup d'etat," and the key to future developments was in the hands of the army.

Sadat prefaced the purge with a series of visits Tuesday and Wednesday to army commanders and troops along the Suez Canal front, evidently to assure himself of their support. And he named the army chief of staff, Maj. Gen. Mohammed Sadek, to replace Fawzi and promoted him to lieutenant general.

The shakeup was seen in Beirut as an obvious attempt by Sadat to rid himself of his political foes.

Another of those quitting was Egypt's top policeman, Interior Minister Shawari Gumah. His resignation was the first announced, shortly after Sadat decreed an immediate end to all special police surveillance including wiretapping. Gumah was replaced by Mahmoud Salem, former governor of Alexandria.

Other cabinet ministers who resigned were Sami Sharaf, the chief of the intelligence services; Housing Minister Saad Zayed; Electricity Minister Helmi el Said, an Information Minister Mohammed Fayek.

Arkansas Fair Through Saturday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fair weather will continue in Arkansas through Saturday with slowly rising temperatures.

The slight warming trend will result from the eastward drift of a large pressure system.

Temperatures have been unusually cool with highs Thursday generally in the 60s. No precipitation is expected through Saturday.

Highs today were forecast in the low to mid 70s with highs Saturday nearing 80.

The 44-degree reading recorded at Little Rock this morning was a record low for May 14. Lows tonight should be in the 40s north to 50s south.

No rainfall was reported during the 24-hour period ended at 7 a.m.

Virginia of Santa Claus Story Is Dead at Age of 81

VALATIE, N.Y. (AP) —

When she was 8 years old, Virginia O'Hanlon Douglas wrote to the New York Sun with a question and was told, "Yes Virginia, there is a Santa Claus."

Thus, Mrs. Douglas, who died Thursday at 81, inspired one of the most widely read editorials in history, a Christmas classic. In ill health in recent years, Mrs. Douglas died at a nursing home. She retired in 1959 after teaching for nearly four decades in Manhattan and Brooklyn schools, much of that time with chronically ill, crippled and blind children. She moved to nearby North Chatham and lived with her daughter, Mrs. Robert Temple.

Virginia wrote in her 1897 letter, "Some of my little friends say there is no Santa Claus. Papa says 'If you see it in The Sun it's so.' Please tell me the truth, is there a Santa Claus?"

The Sun had a policy of answering all letters, so Francis P. Church was assigned to reply and undertook the task somewhat reluctantly. He wrote: "Virginia, your little friends are wrong. They have been afected by the skepticism of a skeptical age ...

"Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy. Alas! How dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus! It would be as if there were no Virginias. There would be no child-like faith then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable this existence."

Through the years, Mrs. Douglas remained a Yuletide celebrity, often called on to read Church's editorial. She once remarked, "I am anonymous from January to November." But she kept her Christmas spirit. Last Christmas, she was in a hospital where an employe in Santa garb went to her bedside and kissed her cheek.

"Oh boy, what a surprise," she said. "Santa Claus, isn't it wonderful to see you again." Her survivors include seven grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

The funeral will be Monday at LeClair Chapel.

Cong Changes Infiltration Route

By J.T. WOLKERSTORFER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese engineers are trying to build a major new infiltration route from Laos into South Vietnam, but military sources say heavy U.S. air raids appear to have stalled the project.

The road, running east from the frontier just north of Khe Sanh, apparently was begun after U.S. and South Vietnamese forces pulled out of the area in March at the end of the 45-day Laotian invasion. One U.S. officer who has seen the construction called it "an autobahn." Officials said they are uncertain whether it is just a supply road or is intended to move heavy artillery to within range of allied base camps.

Since it was first spotted from the air in early April, U.S. planes have hammered it with saturation air attacks that included some 40 B52 strikes in 33 days plus numerous fighter-bomber attacks.

The B52s dropped more than 3,500 tons of bombs on the area through which the road passes, some 15 to 16 miles northwest of Khe Sanh.

U.S. sources said the concentrated bombing has halted all apparent activity by the North Vietnamese engineers. Several trucks also have been knocked

SST Gets Foothold in Senate

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The supersonic transport has grasped an uneasy Senate foothold as its opponents ponder delaying a final vote and backers estimate a new start might cost taxpayers an extra $1 billion.

With its powerful chairman turning from previous support of federal SST subsidies, the Senate Appropriations Committee voted 13 to 7 Thursday to approve House-passed action granting the project $85 million and giving it one more run through the congressional obstacle course.

Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., the chairman, said he doubts the Senate will accept new costs which he pegged at an extra $300 million and which the Boeing Co. board chairman said are likely to range from $500 million to $1 billion.

"I think it's still dead," Ellender said. "You won't get the votes in the Senate. It's that simple."

A Senate vote confirming two previous anti-SST decisions would throw the whole matter once again into a conference with the House with completely unpredictable results.

Federal aid to the SST was

Nixon Beefs Up Fight for Europe Troops

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers said today Senate approval of a 50 per cent cut in U.S. troop strength in Europe "would be a mistake of historic proportions" and "would signal the end" of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Rogers also cited today's statement by Soviet Communist party leader Leonid Brezhnev about possible talks for mutual troop reductions in Europe.

"It is clear if we do it unilaterally we would kiss that issue goodbye," Rogers said.

Rogers' statement during a Senate Foreign Relations Committee hearing on proposed leg-

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Communist party chief Leonid Brezhnev invited the North Atlantic alliance today to start negotiations on a reduction of troops and armaments in Central Europe.

"Some NATO countries show an evident interest and even nervousness concerning reductions of armed forces and armaments in Central Europe," Brezhnev said in a televised speech from Tbilisi, the capital of Soviet Georgia.

Brezhnev was referring to his proposal on March 30 for a "reduction of armed forces and armaments in areas where military confrontation is especially dangerous, above all in Central Europe."

Today he said the spokesman for NATO countries "ask whose forces are to be reduced—foreign or national, and what armaments—nuclear or conventional?"

"If anything is not clear to somebody," he said, "we are ready to make it clear."

isolation to curb presidential war powers marked the latest round in the Nixon administration's battle to stave off Senate approval of an amendment proposed by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield.

Earlier, in response to a question by the committee chairman, Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., Rogers said Congress has the power to cut U.S. troop strength in Europe by limiting appropriated funds. The Mansfield amendment would bar U.S. funds for more than 150,000 American troops in Europe after the end of 1971.

Sen. Robert P. Griffin of Michigan, the Republican whip, told the Senate earlier that a vote to force a 150,000-man reduction in U.S. troop strength in Europe could derail "the most promising disarmament talks of our time."

But Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, leader of the Democratic majority, said he will press his troop cut amendment despite the invitation of Leonid Brezhnev, chairman of the Soviet Communist Party, to NATO nations to start negotiations in European troop and armament reductions.

Mansfield said his effort to force a cut to 150,000 Americans by Dec. 31 will be affected "not in the least" by the Brezhnev suggestion.

He told newsmen he welcomed the negotiations proposal, hopes and assumes President Nixon will accept it.

He said it is immaterial whether the Soviet statement will affect the outcome of the Senate vote on his amendment, scheduled to come late next Wednesday.

"I think we can decide our own policy in this country without outside assistance," Mansfield said.

But Griffin said the Mansfield proposal could undermine any arms reduction talks.

"The timing of the Mansfield amendment could not have been more unfortunate or inappropriate," Griffin said. "The Senate is in danger of going down in history as the Senate which derailed the most promising disarmament talks of our time."

Militant Groups to Resist U.S.

NEW YORK (AP) — Joseph A. Colombo Sr., the reputed organized crime boss, and Rabbi Meir Kahane, head of the militant Jewish Defense League, say they have joined forces to fight what they call government harassment.

Colombo, who founded the Italian-American Civil Rights League after the JDL head was freed on $25,000 bond on charges he conspired to transport weapons and explosives across state lines.

"Conspiracy is synonymous with frame," declared Colombo, who was charged last March under a federal indictment with gambling conspiracy.

"Rabbi Kahane is a man of God, and his cause is just," Colombo told newsmen. He said they were allies because Kahane "is fighting for his people in Russia and we're fighting for our people here."

Colombo, who is listed by the Justice Department as a Mafia boss, has led the league in picketing the FBI and in a campaign to halt the use of the words "Mafia" and "Cosa Nostra" as synonyms for organized crime.

The Jewish Defense League has campaigned against alleged Soviet oppression of Jews through marches, demonstrations and, for a brief period last winter, harassment of Soviet diplomats and their families.

"We feel their (JDL's) fight and cause is just. If they need our support, we will give it. If they ask for it, we will allow it," Colombo told newsmen.

Kahane, who termed the charges against him and 12 other JDL members "obviously false," said he welcomed Colombo's support and would reciprocate.

"We would picket the offices of the FBI if Mr. Colombo asks our help," said Kahane.

Asked to comment on the theological implications of the alliance, Kahane said: "It's human brotherhood. People of other faiths and backgrounds have come to help. It's the kind of thing which, had it been blacks helping Jews, it would have drawn raves. The Italians are no worse than the blacks."

Phone Co's Rate Hike Cut in Half

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Public Service Commission Thursday granted General Telephone Co. of the Southwest a $1.3 million rate increase. The company had asked for more than twice that amount.

General Telephone had figured that the revenues produced by the existing rates were deficient by $2.7 million a year. The PSC rejected that figure because it said the company used an improper method of calculating its rate base.

A part of the increase that was granted by the PSC was under the condition that the company improve telephone service to customers in 18 of the 32 exchanges General Telephone operates in the state.

City attorneys for several cities had told a PSC hearing during December and January that the quality of service provided by the company was poor. General Telephone and a subsidiary, Four State Telephone Co., requested rate increases in 1970.

Mistrial in Rape Case

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Circuit Judge Joe D. Villines of Harrison declared a mistrial Thursday in the trial of Andrew L. Williams, 18, a Negro on a charge of raping a 55-year-old white woman in her home here last July 28.

The motion for the mistrial by defense attorney William C. McArthur was made during the testimony of Little Rock police detective Larry Dill.

Dill was asked by McArthur if he knew what happened out of his presence during interrogation of Williams. Dill replied negatively but asserted he was the only officer who questioned Williams about that particular case.

13 Black Panthers Acquitted

By JOEL DREYFUSS

Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — After an eight-month trial, 13 Black Panthers accused of bomb conspiracy have been acquitted in a verdict reached so swiftly that the jurors surprised even themselves.

The panel, which included five blacks and a Puerto Rican, acquitted the defendants on all 12 counts of an indictment 3½ hours after the case had been turned over to them Thursday. "We had lunch and began talking and we were amazed to find out right away that we felt about the same," said Frederick Hills, an editor. "The miracle was that 12 people of such extraordinary diverse backgrounds all felt pretty much the same way."

It took the foreman, James Fox, a black musician, 10 minutes to read the verdict on each of 12 counts for each of the 13 defendants.

Afeni Shakur, one of the two women defendants, and the only one of the 13 free in bail, shrieked as Fox read "not guilty" counts against her husband Lumumba, 29. He and most of the other defendants had been in jail since arrested in pre-dawn raids April 2, 1969.

Jurors, defendants, six defense lawyers, relatives and friends crowded into the lobby of the Criminal Courts building, laughing, crying and hugging each other.

"I'm dazed—I'm dazed," said Curtis Powell, one of the defendants.

Two of those acquitted fled to Algeria during the trial. Chief defense lawyer Gerald Lefcourt said he would try to negotiate the return of Michael Tabor and Richard Moore, who forfeited bail of $150,000.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Joseph A. Phillips, the prosecutor, said "We felt we had a very, very strong case and we were surprised at the verdict. We were particularly surprised that the jury could evaluate the very complicated evidence in just two hours."

"There were 12 charges. The judge took three days to charge the jury. The summations took three weeks. The evidence took over six months."

In addition, the case went through seven months of pre-trial hearings which were frequently marked by disruptions.

The Panthers were accused of plotting to bomb department stores at the height of the Easter shopping season and to murder policemen. They were charged with attacks on two police stations and a school district office.

The three main prosecution witnesses were undercover policemen who infiltrated the party almost from its inception.

They gave detailed daily reports on activities of the defendants, but none testified that he ever saw any of the accused set off a bomb or shoot a policeman.

At a victory party later, several of the defendants continued to express doubts about the judicial system. Alex McKiever, 19, said "The fight is not over. We still have seven brothers in jail. I wouldn't say I'm free. I'm still in America."

out. At the time construction ceased, the road had reached some six miles into South Vietnam, but its total length through winding ravines and river valleys is estimated at about 14 miles.

One theory advanced by officials is that the North Vietnamese planned to link the road with a tank trail which the Americans cut through the jungle between Khe Sanh and the natural formation called the Rockpile, 12 miles to the north-east, during the Laotian operation. Officials say this would give the enemy a new way to move men and supplies toward the coast or to move their big 122mm and 130mm artillery into range of Camp Carroll and other South Vietnamese and U.S. installations to the east.

Big North Vietnamese guns in the demilitarized zone two to eight miles to the north now can reach these bases, but "the political ramifications of shooting from the DMZ are bad," one official said. In the air war Thursday night, two U.S. F105 fighter-bombers carried out the 37th so-called protective reaction strike this year against anti-aircraft batteries in North Vietnam near the Mu Gia Pass. The U.S. Command said the F105s fired two missiles at North Vietnamese surface-to-air missile—SAM—sites 75 and 82 miles northwest of the demilitarized zone with unknown results.

The command said the F105s were treated by the same sites while conducting operations North of the Mu Gia Pass along the Laos-North Vietnam border.

Brig. Gen. James H. Watkins, the top U.S. air force adviser in Vietnam, said today that the training and expansion of the South Vietnamese air force won't be completed until mid-1973, an indication that American air forces will remain in Vietnam at least two more years.

withdrawn in March after Congress debated whether the money could be better spent and whether the plane might damage the environment.

Ellender said he wants to schedule a vote on the issue for sometime next week, if Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., leading spokesman against SST, will agree to a time limit on debate.

But Proxmire has said he wants the full implications of extra costs to sink in, and that he is willing to use any of his Senate rights, including the filibuster, to fight the project.

Proxmire assistants said the senator probably will insist on hard cost figures before making any moves.

But no two estimates of those costs are the same.

Boeing Chairman William Allen told a news conference that if the SST is revived, all contracts and subcontracts must be renegotiated, and industry must be assured the government will not back away a second time.

First Girl Pages Named by House

By JANET STAIHAR

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Duty No. 1 for the first congressional girl page in history, Paulette Marie Desell, was to fetch a glass of water for the Senate's presiding officer today.

The 17-year-old girl page, dressed in a blue pants suit for the occasion, nervously—but without spilling a drop—served the water to Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif.

With that, the 182-year-old congressional tradition of hiring boy pages exclusively tumbled into history.

Paulette, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul L. Desell of Arlington, Va., was sworn in as a Senate page along with another girl, Ellen Rachel McConnell, 16, of Dundee, Ill.

Ellen left immediately after the swearing-in ceremony, held in the office of Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., to go back to school in Illinois.

A third girl page, Julie Price, 16, of Bartlesville, Okla., could not come because of school work at home but will be sworn in later.

But Paulette went through the rounds today, including a brief visit to the Capitol Page School.

She will earn $7,380 a year.

Paulette, who was informed only Thursday that all the red tape around her appointment had been cut, stayed up half the night sewing her own page uniform.

Girl pages must wear pants suits of black or blue.

The girls will be joining the previously all-male ranks of 29 Senate pages, 50 House pages and 4 serving the Supreme Court.

The boy pages struck a symbolic blow for women's liberation recently when they named the infant daughter of Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., as the first honorary girl page.

The Senate went a step further Thursday and banned sex discrimination in the appointment of Capitol policemen, elevator operators and post office employees.

Under the resolution authorizing girl pages, each senator is

The McLartys left Dallas April 28, spent two days in San Francisco, then on to Seattle where they met a group of Ford dealers and their wives, representing each district in the United States and Hawaii.

On Friday, April 30, the group left on a chartered plane for a 16-hour non-stop flight to Tokyo. There they spent four interesting and exciting days, including a tour of the outlying Japanese countryside on the Japanese mountain resort Nikki.

Then on to Hong Kong for a five-day stay, including a complete tour of Hong Kong and a trip to Macau by Hydrofoil.

The McLartys' left Sunday, May 9, on a non-stop flight to Seattle.

They were selected to represent the Memphis district in this all-expense paid "Reach For The Sun" trip to the Orient, sponsored by Ford Motor Co.

Steals Yacht and Says Next Target Will Be Airplane

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —

The Coast Guard recovered a $100,000 yacht in a sea chase outside the Golden Gate and captured a self-styled adventurer who told police that for a while at least he was one happy fellow.

"As soon as I get out of here," William Lamkin, 33, said from jail Thursday night, "I'm going to steal me an airplane."

Police said the San Francisco Marina harbormaster got curious when he saw Charles W. Fowler's Charga Isle II leaving the harbor in the afternoon. He telephoned Fowler who said his yacht wasn't supposed to be going anywhere.

When an inshore search around the bridge failed to turn up the 41-foot craft, the Coast Guard looked outside the Gate.

The Charga Isle II was spotted heading north. The cutter cranked on flank speed and overhauled the vessel off Pt. Reyes, about 15 miles north of the bay entrance.

Lamkin, police said, was in a jovial mood—warmed by "very good whisky" he found aboard—gave himself up without a squawk, and even helped Coast Guardsmen ready towing lines.

Life had been pretty grim before his five-hour adventure, Lamkin said, admitting to only

Warning on SS Disability Claims

There has been a noticeable increase in violations by disability insurance beneficiaries who return to work without notifying Social Security Administration, according to Otis A. Blackwood, social security manager. Sometimes employers, because of misunderstanding of the law, also fail to report correctly wages paid disabled employees.

Mr. Blackwood reminds employers to be wary of any device or scheme to avoid proper reporting of wages earned by disability beneficiaries. Employees often ask their employer not to report their wages or to disguise their earnings as special payments, sick pay, etc.

Not only is the employer liable for proper reporting of wages, the disability beneficiary is responsible for reporting this return to work. The Social Security Administration must be advised of any work activity of persons receiving disability benefits.

Most people drawing social security disability benefits are entitled to a trial work period in which they test their ability to work for as many as nine months. Disability checks continue during this period no matter how high earnings are.

Employers have questions about reporting obligations should call or write the Texarkana Social Security Office.

Television and Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — Television actors have more professional lives than the legendary feline. Every September an assortment of performers emerge in new TV series—and most of them are familiar faces.

A series that bombs in the Nielsen ratings—and at least one-third of them do—may hurt the involved actor's bank account temporarily but it helps many of them get a foothold. Nipsey Russell said the other day that even if his "Barefoot in the Park" was this season's shortest-lived show, it "helped me a lot."

"People found out I could do something besides stand up and tell jokes," he said.

Monte Markham, with two earlier series that bombed, has been one of the past season's busiest guest stars on other people's shows. He has been playing everything from noble souls to villains and nobody holds either "The Second Hundred Years" of "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington" against him.

Darren McGavin has starred in a number of series, from "Riverboat" to "The Outsider," and none has ever approached the hit class. McGavin, however, is a busy actor playing big roles and getting star billing.

Lee Majors moved from "The Big Valley" into "The Men From Shiloh" and then was cast to co-star in next season's "Owen Marshall, Counselor-at-Law" as soon as the long-playing western was canceled.

Bobby Sherman, who played one of the brothers in "Here Come the Brides" for a couple of seasons will return in the fall as star of his own musical show. Dean Jones, who has starred in a couple of series over the years, will be in "Chicago Teddy Bears." Another member of the cast will be John Banner, now that Sgt. Schultz, after all those seasons, no longer will be guarding "Hogan's Heroes."

Larry Hagman, during periods when "I Dream of Jeannie" was rumored to be ailing, made a number of pilot films. One, "The Good Life," has made the grade, and Larry will play half of a young couple who hire out as cook and butler to a rich family.

Rod Taylor was a series star in "Follow the Sun," and Dennis Cole played a young cop in "Felony Squad." They will be teamed in "The Big Wheels."

Regulars in drop-out series frequently wind up with leading roles in films made especially for TV. Barbara Eden, a frequent variety show guest star, recently was signed for a lead in an upcoming "world premiere" feature. Julie Sommars, late of "The Governor and J. J." will have a big part in a filmed adaptation of a John Steinbeck story.

MIRIAM GRACE GLASGOW

Southern State College. She is presently teaching English at Hope High School in Hope. Her fiancé will graduate from Southern State College on May 15 with a degree in Sociology. A July wedding in Nashville is planned.

HERE'S JUICE IN YOUR EYE

Dear Helen: My husband is a great guy with one fault. I can get him to eat his so-necessary citrus only if I serve grapefruit each morning in bed. He refuses juice and forgets vitamins.

I always say if you don't pamper 'em, you don't keep 'em, and this is fine, except that he never leaves his grapefruit on the tray. Says it's hard to handle, so it ends up on the bed cover or sheets and, though he insists he NEVER spills a drop, you'd be amazed how often I must wash.

If I fuss, he may just stop eating grapefruit and otherwise ruin these lovely morning tete-a-tetes.

How do I keep my husband healthy, me happy, and yet not wear out my washer? —M.Z. Dear M.:

If a long strip of plastic wrap over the bedding doesn't solve your problem, then be thankful for small blessings: At least your husband's fruit on the loom isn't watermelon! —H.

Dear Helen: Is it true, as a French writer says, that women seldom feel remorse? Joseph Joubert writes that men experience guilt because they act first, regret later; while women consider temptation, talk themselves into justification, then do it. Rarely, he says, does conscience bite a female deep.

How do you stand on this, judging from your many letters? —GORDON

Dear Gordon:

We-e-l-l, I can only say that when a woman is contemplating an affair she writes tear-filled pages about her nasty, mean, rotten, no-good, low-life husband, then in the last paragraph asks, "Do you blame me for finding true love with this wonderful man I've just met?"

While the majority of erring males write, "How can I get my wonderful, long-suffering wife back, when I did her so wrong?" Monsieur Joubert may have something! —H.

Dear Helen: My wife wants a water bed. Is this really a good way to (re-) launch a romance? The ads say two things are better on a water bed, and one is sleep, but I'm

DuVal Gets Top Health Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — The search for a new top health official for the federal government ended today with an announcement by President Nixon that he will nominate Dr. Merlin K. DuVal Jr. for the job.

DuVal, 48, has been dean of the college of medicine at the University of Arizona since 1964.

He will succeed Dr. Roger O. Egeberg as the Department of Health, Education and Welfare's assistant secretary for health and scientific affairs.

Egeberg, who had held the post less than two years, will become a special consultant to Nixon on health affairs and an assistant to HEW Secretary Elliot L. Richardson for health policy.

The White House said DuVal will be responsible for developing federal health programs and providing leadership and direction for HEW's activities in the health area.

afraid the sloshing back and forth of the waves would keep me awake, and as I get seasick in a rowboat, I might have to lay in a supply of Dramamine.

I've heard all the good things. Now tell me some of the hazards. —BORN DOUBTFUL

Dear B.D.:

I hate to throw cold water, but the cheaper water beds are not entirely leak or puncture proof, and 200 plus gallons on a bedroom run can douse the fire in a hurry! . . . Unless a floor-level electrical outlet gets flooded, which might short circuit more than romance.

Also, if you're in an upstairs apartment, check with the landlord first. At some 1600 pounds per bed, he may not allow them off the ground floor.

But—they ARE comfortable, etc. Ask the man who owns one. —H.

Teach me good judgment and knowledge, for I believe in thy commandments. —Psalms 119:66.

Nashville, Texarkana Win

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

In two games of the district 7 tournament at Legion Field Thursday, Texarkana and Nashville both came out winners.

In the first game, Texarkana took a quick 1-0 lead in the first inning, but then had to hang on for dear life, before finally beating Blevins in the last inning, 3-1.

After the Razorbacks had taken their one run lead, it held until Blevins scored in the fourth to knot the score at 1-1, on a walk to Tommy Webb and then three straight singles by Schultz, Taylor, and Wesson.

With both teams playing tight defense, not much happened until David Cottrell, of Texarkana, led off in the sixth with a single. After Alan Hale reached first base on an error, Tyler brought both runners in with a single, for the margin of victory.

Danny Freeman was the winning pitcher for the Hogs, giving up only three hits, and striking out eight Hornet batters, while White took the loss.

Nashville, scoring seven runs in the first inning, and then withstood a rally by the Cale Red Devils to take a 14-8 win and advance to the semi-finals tonight.

Cale scored one run in the first inning, four in the third inning, and three more in the fifth, to come within two runs, 10-8, but just couldn't score any more and keep any from scoring.

Hitting was about even as Nashville banged out 12 hits and Cale collected 11.

Randy Echols took the victory for the Scrappers, while Jim Godwin of Cale suffered the loss.

Today, the games will be switched around so that Nashville and Hope will tangle at 4 o'clock and Texarkana will play Gurdan at 7:30. This is to meet Nashville's junior-senior school banquet arrangements.

Sets Record in Bowling Tourney

DETROIT (AP) — Skee Foremsky, Houston, Tex., didn't win the American Bowling Congress Masters tournament championship—in fact he finished third Wednesday to pocket $2,890—but he did set an alltime record for consecutive 200-plus games. Foremsky had each of his four games in his first five matches over 200, with a low of 201 and a high of 299. The southpaw fell to 172 in the first game of his sixth match. Dick Weber, Sr., St. Louis, Mo., had held the record with 19 which he set in 1966.

Jim Godman, Lorain, Ohio, won $5,650 in becoming the fourth straight bowler to survive an early loss and still win the crown. Godman beat Don Johnson, Akron, Ohio, twice. In '68, Pete Tountas, Hammond, Ind., beat out Detroit's Buzz Fazio. Jim Chestney, Detroit, won over Barry Asher, Costa Mesa, Calif., in '69. Last year Don Glover, Bakersfield, Calif., downed Detroit's Bob Strampe.

Godman's 229-1 average was the highest ever by a Masters winner. The previous mark had been held by Billy Welu, Houston, Tex., at 227 in '64.

During the heavy classic division play last week, most of the righthanders were "crying" about the ABC lanes were set up only for southpaws. Both Godman and Johnson proved them wrong, however. Each is a righty.

In addition to Foremsky's 299 game he left up the No. 6 pin on his final shot, there were three 300 games in the Masters test to set another record. They beat the mark of two in '62 when Don Carter of Tarzana, Calif., and Ray Bluty of St. Louis connected. The perfect games this time were shot by Anthony of Tacoma, Wash., in qualifying, by Bill Baker of Detroit in early play and by Godman in the final.

Texas Has Jinx on Pan American

EDINBURG, Tex., (AP) — Burt Hooton, who has a 35-2 record in three seasons of college baseball for the University of Texas, also holds a big hex over the Pan American University team the Longhorns will be meeting May 21 in the District 6 NCAA playoffs in San Antonio.

Hooton has humbled Pan American in three meetings. He owns a lifetime earned-run average of 0.43 against Pan American.

The only run Pan Am has scored off Hooton came in the 1970 playoffs on Al Pierce's single, a wild pitch and two infield outs. Otherwise, the Broncs have failed to score a run off Hooton in 21 innings.

"Hooton halted the Broncs twice in one day to wrap up the 1970 playoffs for Texas at Austin.

First, he won the opening game, 2-1, on a two-hitter. He walked three and struck out eight. The only hits were Mike Duffey's infield single and Pierce's solid single.

Then Hooton returned in relief to win the nightcap, 4-3, in 11 innings. He pitched the final three innings. In the ninth, Arnie Alvarez greeted Hooton with a run-scoring single to tie the game, but the run wasn't charged to Hooton because another pitcher put the runner on base.

That time, Hooton allowed three singles in three innings. James Tyrone, Pan Am's All-America center fielder, and Tim Tully each singled in the 10th and 11th. Hooton got out of trouble with the help of two Texas double plays.

An excellent bunter, Hooton won his own game in the 11th with a squeeze bunt that dropped past the charging Pan Am infield for a base hit.

This year, Hooton whipped Pam Am even more convincingly on the Broncs' home field. He handcuffed the Broncs on a three-hitter, 4-0, on March 5.

Just twice in 47 games this season has Pan Am been shut out. The Broncs rolled to 40 wins in 47 games, including three of four early wins over Texas.

Hooton had to work hard for his March triumph, throwing 148 pitches in nine innings. He walked three and struck out 15. Hooton will take an 11-1 record this season into the playoffs.

His record matches the 11-1 showing of Lupe Salinas, Pan Am's ace. Salinas beat Texas, 3-1, this year, and pitched six innings to no decision during the 1970 playoffs.

It isn't certain yet who Pan Am will pitch against Hooton in the playoffs. He probably will go in the opener of the three-game series at 7:30 p.m. Friday, May 21, at V. J. Keefe Field in San Antonio.

Coach Al Ogletree of Pan Am has narrowed down his probable pitchers to six — Salinas, Gary Doyle (9-1), Andre Rabouin (7-2), Powell Brown (5-1), Bruno Cavazos (5-1) or James Newman (1-1).

Hawks Pull Ahead of Canadiens

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Doug Jarrett didn't score a goal Thursday night. In fact he didn't even make an assist. But the big defenseman is one of the reasons the Chicago Black Hawks have taken the upper hand over the Montreal Canadiens in their Stanley Cup play-off.

The Hawks, getting picture goals from Dennis Hull and Cliff Koroll, defeated the Canadiens 2-0 behind goalie Tony Esposito to take a 3-2 edge in their best-of-7 series which now advances to Montreal Sunday afternoon in a nationally televised contest.

Jarrett, who has been virtually helpless throughout the series, turned it around Thursday to help lead the Hawks to victory. He played so well that Coach Billy Reay never even came close to using his reserve defensemen as he had in the two previous losses in Montreal.

"We were moving for a change," said Jarrett in relating his play and that of defense mate Keith Magnuson. "At least I thought I was for a change."

"I was so disgusted and disappointed with the way I was playing, I didn't know what to do. I guess I went out and played the game the way I should and the way I'm capable."

"I think it all began in the last game of the New York series," continued Jarrett. "I started thinking too much. I don't know why. I guess it was just a slump."

Jarrett hit and hit hard Thursday night and his jarring checks not only helped preserve Esposito's shutout but opened the doors for the offense.

Dennis Hull scored his sixth goal of the series on a perfect pass from Koroll at 10:57 of the first period and the twosome collaborated for the second goal at 11:26 of the second period when Koroll slapped in Dennis' shot after it had hit a skate in front of goalie Ken Dryden.

Coach Reay gave everyone credit "from the goalkeeper on out and I was pleased with our penalty killing. Before the series started I said it would go six or seven games."

"How many now," someone interrupted. "Right now I'd say six," responded Reay.

Despite the loss, the Canadiens expressed confidence they will win at home Sunday in what has become a neighborhood series.

And if they are successful Sunday, the series will come to a final showdown in Chicago Tuesday night.

LINDSAY, Okla. (AP) — Mike Flesher, a 6-foot-4, 240-pound tackle from Lindsay, Okla., Thursday signed a national letter of intent to play football at the University of Arkansas.

Flesher is also a baseball player and helped lead the Lindsay team to a 12-1 record and a runner-up position in the state playoffs.

Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles flew to Lindsay for signing.

U.S. Gains in Harness Racing

MEADOW LANDS, Pa. (AP) — Billy Haughton of the United States gained on Austria's Adolf Ubleis Thursday night in harness racing's World Driving championship by winning two races and placing in two others.

Ubleis, the leader, still is comfortably ahead with a 154 point-edge over Haughton, his nearest competitor.

During Thursday's races, Haughton piled up 150 points to Ubleis' 79.

The next stop of the HTA tour takes place Friday night at Vernon Downs in Vernon, N.Y., with the final Saturday night at Liberty Bell Park in Philadelphia.

The main event is for the 1971 U.S. Open, a 100-mile race.

Ubleis, who is favored to win, is owned by Stargell.

Epstein Is Star in Oakland Win

By DICK COUCH

The shock is gone and the sock is back for big Mike Epstein, newest production man for the potent Oakland A's.

Epstein, who was jolted last weekend when the Washington Senators traded him to Oakland, drove in his first two runs for the A's Thursday night as they whipped the Kansas City Royals 6-3 behind the six-hit pitching of Jim "Catfish" Hunter.

In the day's only other major league action, the New York Yankees shaded Milwaukee 4-3 in 10 innings for the fifth straight victory.

PITCHING—Jim "Catfish" Hunter, A's, checked Kansas City 6-3 with a six-hitter for his sixth straight victory.

BATTING—Horace Clarke, Yankees, drilled two triples and scored two runs, including the 10th inning tie-breaker, in a 4-3 victory over Milwaukee.

Epstein, who was jolted last weekend when the Washington Senators traded him to Oakland, drove in his first two runs for the A's Thursday night as they whipped the Kansas City Royals 6-3 behind the six-hit pitching of Jim "Catfish" Hunter.

In the day's only other major league action, the New York Yankees shaded Milwaukee 4-3 in 10 innings for the fifth straight victory.

Epstein, dealt to the A's along with relief pitcher Darold Knowles six days ago, changed uniforms reluctantly. He had looked forward to a trade—and the opportunity to play every day—in the past, but when the trade came he was playing regularly for Washington.

But he has made a rapid adjustment—in more ways than one, after going 0-for-4 in his first start for the A's last Sunday at Baltimore, the broad-shouldered first baseman has pounded out seven hits in 14 at-bats, hiking his season average to .272.

His lone hit Thursday night was a two-run single that keyed Oakland's five-run flurry in the fifth inning, enabling Hunter to breeze to his sixth consecutive victory after a pair of early losses.

The A's, who have won five of their last six starts, lead the American League West by 5½ games. "If we keep going like we are now, I know we can go all the way," said Hunter, unbeaten since April 11, who gave up two unearned runs in the fourth inning and then finished strong.

Horace Clarke drilled his second triple of the game with one out in the 10th at Milwaukee and scored the tie-breaking run on Jake Gibbs' double down the first base line.

The Brewers had tied it on Al Yates' run-scoring single in the ninth.

Bobby Murcer stroked a single and a two-run homer for the Yankees, boosting his batting mark to .349—second highest in the league.

Pimlico's Weather is Big Factor

BALTIMORE (AP) — The weather and the resulting condition of the Pimlico racing surface is of more concern to the trainers of Saturday's Preakness entries than the post positions.

After the bumping, crowding and blocking in the 20-horse cavalry charge known as the Kentucky Derby, the draw lines Thursday to determine the starting gate line-up for the Preakness was strictly ho-hum.

In the Derby, won by long-shot Canonero II, it was jockey Cowboy Jimmy Nichols aboard List who observed: "I've seen the 'Charge of the Light Brigade' on television, but I never thought I'd be in it."

But the 1 3-16 mile Preakness will have only 11 starters, so no traffic jams are expected. Instead, with Pimlico being pelted by rain several days during the past week—including a downpour Thursday—the talk turned to the condition of the racing strip.

"I prefer mud," said Gerald Lord, trainer of Gustave Ring's Sound Off, who won the Preakness Prep last week over favored Executioner on an off track. "I hope it rains again Friday."

The weather forecast, however, called for clear skies today and Saturday, prior to the 96th running of the Preakness at 5:40 p.m. EDT. CBS will televise from 5 to 6 p.m., and broadcast on radio from 5:23 to 5:43 p.m.

Sound Off also drew the No. 1 post position, putting him in the best spot to go to the front with the early speed which is likely to come from California's Eastern Fleet and the favorite of the Ontario race fans.

Indianapolis 500 to Run Saturday

By DALE BURGESS
Associated Press Sports Writer
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — A crowd usually guessed as the second-largest in American sports will swarm into the 539-acre Indianapolis Motor Speedway Saturday, almost guaranteed a dozen record-smashing runs for the pole position in the 56th 500-mile race May 29.

Indiana State Police generally estimate the crowd for the first day of time trials upwards of 250,000 and the race day swarm at about 100,000 more.

Mark Donohue of Media, Pa., who finished second to Al Unser of Albuquerque, N.M., in last year's million-dollar Indy race, will be a prohibitive favorite to win the No. 1 starting position in the 33-car field.

Donohue was clocked unofficially at 180.977 miles per hour Thursday, compared with the three-year-old official record of 171.559 for the 10-mile qualifications, set by Joe Leonard of San Jose, Calif., in an STP turbine car.

Donohue has a radical new Mark 16 McLaren owned by former racer Roger Penske of Philadelphia and powered by a special short-stroke Offenhauser engine.

Donohue was the first to break the 180 barrier.

Peter Revson of New York, fifth in the 1969 Indy classic, and former world champion Denis Hulme of New Zealand have the only other Mark 16s that have been built. They make up the McLaren factory team and would be rated contenders for the pole if Donohue had stayed home.

Revson clocked a lap at 176.1 in his McLaren Thursday for the second fastest tour of the 2½-mile oval during practice.

Ten drivers have run faster than the record in two weeks of practice. Sixteen have broken the track record unofficially.

Mike Mosley of Brownsburg, Ind., turned in the Speedway's third-best practice speed of 175.85 m.p.h. Thursday in the Eagle-Offenhauser with which Bobby Unser won the 1968 Indy classic. It has been substantially rebuilt by A. J. Watson, who has handled the wrenches on six 500 winners.

Bobby Unser also has a 175 lap.

The 174-plus runners include 1969 winner Mario Andretti in an STP McNamara-Ford, 1970 winner Al Unser in a new Colt-Ford, and A. J. Foyt Jr., three-time 500 winner in one of the new Coyote-Fords from his own Houston shops.

Travelers in Shutout of Albuquerque

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Left-hander Rudy Arroyo threw a five-hit shutout at Albuquerque Thursday night as the Arkansas Travelers whipped the Dodgers 1-0.

A sacrifice fly to right field by Tommy Heintzelman brought home the only run of the game.

The only real Dodger threat came in the eighth inning when Bobby Randall slammed a pinch-hit double to left field and then took third on a wild pitch. Arroyo began bearing down, however, and retired the next three batters and the Travelers went on to victory.

The two teams will square off at 6:30 tonight for a double-header.

In other Dixie Association action Thursday night, Columbus swept a doubleheader from Montgomery 1-0 and 5-1, Asheville took two from Charlotte 1-0 and 5-1, Birmingham defeated Dallas - Fort Worth 4-2, Jacksonville blanked Savannah 2-0, Amarillo whipped Shreveport 5-1 and Memphis worked 14 innings to defeat San Antonio 7-5.

Celtics Get 2 Top Men in NBA Draft

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics had their two top choices in the National Basketball Association draft in the fold today with the signing of Western Kentucky teammates Clarence Glover and Jim Rose. The Celtics followed the signing of Glover, their No. 1 draft pick, by getting Rose to agree to a two-year pact Thursday. Glover is a defensive forward, while Rose is a 6-foot-3 backcourt standout.

Rose, considered outstanding on defense although he averaged 15.5 points a game for Western Kentucky this season, said he chose the Celtics although he was contacted by three clubs in the rival American Basketball Association.

"It didn't make any difference because I want to play in the NBA," Rose said after signing his contract. "It's the prestige league."

Rose agreed to a contract which does not contain a no-cut clause. Boston General Manager Red Auerback disclosed that he expects the Celtics' third draft choice, Dave Robisch of Kansas to sign with Denver of the ABA.

2 Favored in Winston 500

By BLOYS BRITT
AP Auto Racing Writer
TALLADEGA, Ala. (AP) — Frank Warren and Bill Champion, two nomads of NASCAR's rich Grand National circuit, figure luck—together with a bit of tailgating—will give them high finishes in Sunday's $165,000 Winston 500 stock car race.

"Luck," says Warren, 33, "is fully half of the racing game. And there isn't but one way mine can go and that's up."

"Tailgating (drafting) is the only way for a weaker car to go on the big speedways," said Champion, at 49 one of the oldest of the Dixie racing regulars. "You gotta pin your front bumper on the rear end of a faster car and let him tow you if you expect to do well."

Warren, a native of Springfield, Mass., who came south to run the big bore stockers in 1963, ran his two-year-old Dodge at 177.093 miles per hour Thursday to capture the 11th starting position in a field of 50 cars that will take the green flag at Alabama International Speedway Sunday.

It was the fastest single lap that Warren has ever driven and he was naturally excited. "I don't know exactly what the boys did to that old car, but they have put me up there where I can run with the leaders and draft them all day."

Champion was Thursday's second best qualifier in a Ford, covering the 2.66-mile high-banked trioval at 175.249 m.p.h. to give him seat No. 12 in the field.

Thirteen others qualified in the second day of trials, leaving 15 spots open today and the final 10 for Saturday morning. Donnie Allison won the pole position at 185.869 m.p.h. Wednesday and will lead the field away at the 12:30 p.m. start.

Dick "Digger" Phelps, who last season guided the Rams to a 26-3 mark and ninth place in The Associated Press rankings, then left Rose Hill to become head coach at Notre Dame.

Wissel, a native of New Rochelle, N.Y., took over at Lafayette four years ago, after the team posted a 4-21 mark. Under his mentorship, Lafayette improved its record every year and won the Western Division of the Middle Atlantic Conference last season.

Carlesimo said Wissel has been given a four-year contract at an estimated $16,000 a year.

NBA Protests Playing of All-Star

NEW YORK (AP) — Walter Kennedy, commissioner of the National Basketball Association, says the 17 owners of the league's teams have protested to him the all-star game planned by the NBA Players Association with a team from the American Basketball Association.

In a letter Thursday to Larry Fleischer, attorney for the NBA players organization, Kennedy said the game scheduled for Houston May 28 is a violation of all the players' contracts which specify the team owner must give permission for a player to participate in a game outside league sanction.

The game was announced by Oscar Robertson, president of the NBAPA, after Kennedy announced the NBA and ABA would seek congressional approval for a merger. The players presently have an injunction against the merger of the former rival leagues.

"Every owner," Kennedy's letter said, "has expressed to me his strong protest that the game was scheduled without such consent of the owners. I have been instructed to inform you that if the breach of the contract takes place ... each owner will hold the participating player responsible to the fullest extent permitted under the contract and by the law."

He noted that the standard NBA contract says the player has "agreed to play basketball only for his club," and "not to engage in any game or exhibition of basketball except with the written consent of the club."

Kennedy said he believed most of the owners would consent to the game if they were certain all the proceeds from the game would be given to charity. But, he said, it's reported the television receipts from the game are supposed to go to the players' pension plan.

He said the owners' decision on the proposed contest has nothing to do with the merger. He also said he did not know of any NBA players who have obtained permission from the team's owner to play in the all-star game.

Commissioner Jack Dolph of the ABA was not available for comment on Kennedy's letter, nor was Fleischer.

Chess Play Recessed to Friday

LAS PALMAS, Canary Islands (AP) — Bent Larsen of Denmark and Wolfgang Uhlmann of East Germany adjourned their first match Thursday in the quarter-finals of the World Chess Championships.

The match was adjourned after six hours of play in the 44th move. It will be finished Friday.

In another quarter-final match at Sevilla, Spain, the match between Tigran Petrosyan, Russia, and Robert Heubner, West Germany, also was adjourned after five hours in the 41st move. It will be finished Saturday.

The quarter-final at Vancouver, B.C., involving Bobby Fischer of Los Angeles and Soviet grand master Mark Taimanov was postponed until Sunday because of a dispute over a room.

Taylor to Return to Kansas City

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Outfielder Carl Taylor, who burned his sweatshirt in disgust before leaving the Kansas City Royals, will be back next week, a club spokesman says.

Cedric Tallis, Royals general manager, said he got a telephone call Thursday from Taylor who was at his off-season home in Sarasota, Fla. Taylor said he wanted to take care of some personal matters and return to Kansas City in a few days.

Tallis said a serious illness in Taylor's family had added to the outfielder's worries and it apparently became too much for him.

Taylor has started eight games for the Royals and has gotten only seven hits in 37 times at bat for a weak .189 av-

Hogan Quickly Out at Houston

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer
HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Ben Hogan took an incredible nine, Kermit Zarley took a two stroke penalty and Larry Hinson took a new approach to his game.

The legendary Hogan, limping badly on once-shattered legs, picked up after 11 holes of the first round of the $125,000 Houston Champions Invitational Golf Tournament Thursday.

"I just can't keep up with the boys," said the 58-year-old winner of four U.S. Open championships.

He was a fantastic 11 over par at that time, including a nine on the par three fourth hole where he jumped three shots unplayable into a ravine.

And while the bronzed little man in the white cap was shooting himself out of it, the 25-year-old Hinson and hometown hero Zarley moved into a share of the lead with 67s, four under par on the tough, 7,166 yard Champions Golf Club Course.

They were one stroke in front of rookie Hubert Green, who has threatened twice—finishing second and third—in the last three weeks.

Another stroke back, at 69, were Dave Hill and Bob Murphy, while the big group at 70 included defending champion Gibby Gilloet, Chi Chi Rodriguez, amateur Ben Crenshaw, Homero Blancas and several others.

Arnold Palmer had a 71, Masters champion Charles Coody took a 72 and Lee Trevino was well back at 76.

Zarley, laughing and joking despite the penalty that kept him from sole control of first place, said he still planned on winning "if I can stay out of the Spanish moss."

The penalty—he called it on himself—came in a trap on the 11th hole. Zarley brushed some Spanish moss that had fallen off an overhanging tree when he made his backswing. He was penalized for striking a loose impediment.

"I told my wife I was going to win this week," the gangling, Houston resident said. "I don't usually tell her anything like that—and I still think I can."

Zarley, a former University of Houston star, turned pro seven years ago this week in the Houston Classic. He's won two tour events, the latest the 1970 Canadian Open.

erage. After failing twice at the plate in Baltimore Wednesday he took himself out of the game and went to the dressing room. There he set a fire to his sweatshirt in front of his locker.

Taylor left the clubhouse and the Royals didn't know where he was until Tallis got the phone call. Manager Bob Lemon had suspended the player, but made no move to fill the vacancy on the roster.

Tallis said Taylor will be welcomed back by the management and players if he is ready to play baseball again.

Russia Gave Warning in 1967 War

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Lyndon B. Johnson says Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin used the hot line during the 1967 Arab-Israeli war to warn that Moscow was prepared to take military action if necessary.

The warning came on the morning of June 10 after the forces of Soviet-supported President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt and other Arab armies had suffered extensive defeats.

Johnson said he responded by ordering the U.S. 6th Fleet closer to the Syrian coast as a "signal that the United States of America and its government was prepared for the situation that would confront it if it were confronted."

"This was a very tense moment," Johnson recalled during an interview filmed in Austin, Tex., for the CBS-TV "60 Minutes" program shown Tuesday night. The tension eased later the same day when a cease-fire was reached.

The Kosygin message was not the first time the hot line was used during the 1967 war. Qualified U.S. officials reported at the time that Kosygin first messaged Johnson on June 5, the morning the fighting broke out.

Kosygin suggested on June 5 that the United States and the Soviet Union work together to ensure peace and said the Soviet Union did not want war in the Middle East, according to reports at the time.

Johnson said in the television interview that he received word on the morning of the 10th "that Mr. Kosygin desires the President to come to the equipment."

In that message, "Kosygin said that they had reached a very crucial decision, that they were prepared to do what was necessary including using the military," Johnson recalled.

"He (Kosygin) mentioned the words 'grave catastrophe,' He mentioned the words 'independent decision.' He mentioned the word 'military,'" Johnson said.

"When the leader of another state talks about a very crucial moment, foresees the risk of a 'grave catastrophe,' and he states that unless Israel unconditionally halts operations within the next few hours that the Soviet Union will take necessary, 'necessary actions including military,' this is pretty serious business," Johnson said.

Johnson said he asked Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara the location of the 6th Fleet. He was told it

IF YOUR WAY IS DARK

ASK GOD FOR LIGHT

Belief Helps Make Good Neighbors!

Today, the world is getting smaller. We're looking at it from the moon. Looks like we've just got to be good neighbors, if we are to survive. . . to be good neighbors. And we might as well start with the folks next door. Sure their dog barks too much and too loud. But the dog's old and its masters a bit hard-of-hearing. So, maybe you, too, should pretend to be a little older and a mite deaf to the bark. It's a good way to make and keep good neighbors.

Sometimes the kids across the street whoop it up a little too much and perhaps turn your yard into a playground. But they are young and their parents blind to their antics. Maybe you too, can grow a little younger and look the other way for a while. It might surprise you just how good your neighbors will become and how easy it is to keep them good.

That road hog who cuts in front of your car - that boss who cuts down your best efforts - that show-off who cuts up at parties. Sure they're thoughtless and careless. But patience could easily turn them into good neighbors. Belief in the Almighty's Presence and Plan will soften your hard line with understanding. Belief in America and democratic ideals will give you strength to forebear. Belief in other people will make you a good neighbor. So, as we move in for a closer look at the moon, maybe we ought to take a closer look at the folks next door. It's a good way to make, and keep good neighbors.

You'll get the idea at your place of worship this week.

Let's Reflect

Many do with opportunities as children do at the seashore; they fill their little hands with sand, and then let the grains fall through, one by one, till all are gone. T. Jones said it.

Reagan and Nixon in Harmony

By JOHN LENGEL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Emerging from an unusual summit conference on welfare with California Gov. Ronald Reagan last month, President Nixon exulted: "We have found a way to work together."

Less than six weeks later, the administration has threatened the state with legal action which could lead to a cutoff of federal welfare funds.

State proposals lowering the amount of outside income a welfare recipient may earn and requiring him to requalify for payments every four months are "not consistent with federal law," Elliot L. Richardson, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, said Thursday.

In a speech to the National Press Club, Richardson said California has been told that unless the proposals are amended to bring them into compliance with federal regulations "we will initiate new administrative proceedings."

The proposals would shave an estimated 27,000 welfare recipients off the rolls.

Only two weeks ago Reagan, threatened with a cutoff of $700 million in federal welfare aid, announced a $10-million-a-

Mayday Riots Still Making Waves

By MARK BROWN

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Last week's Mayday antiwar demonstrations are continuing to send ripples across the nation's legal and political surface and there are indications they will continue to spread.

The latest developments came Thursday in the form of indictments, suits against federal and Washington police officials and a new promise of another round of civil disobedience June 1.

Indicted Thursday for allegedly doing here what he was convicted of doing during the tumultuous 1968 Democratic National Convention in Chicago was Yippie Abbie Hoffman. He was charged with crossing state lines to incite a riot.

Concurrently, a grand jury in the District of Columbia Superior Court indicted a Connecticut pacifist on charges of assaulting a Washington police officer with a portable loudspeaker. He is Bradford Lyttle Jr., a coordinator of the People's Coalition for Peace and Justice.

Hoffman also was accused of interfering with a police officer during a riot, a violation of federal law. The charges against Lyttle are local ones developed by the Justice Department.

Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, whose chief of internal security, Robert A. Mardian, is directing the government's investigation of Mayday and Coalition leaders, reportedly told newsmen Thursday.

"A lot of these people are going to be pretty busy in court the next few months. The grand jury sitting here will undoubtedly come up with more information that will lead to indictments of more defendants."

Leading to the indictments against Hoffman and Lyttle was the unsuccessful attempt by antiwar demonstrators to block traffic into the nation's capital May 3.

In Hoffman's case, the government described the situation as a riot; in Lyttle's it did not. Hoffman and Lyttle already had been arrested, bonded and released on the charges.

"I had about as much to do with the demonstrations in Washington as the Capital bombing or the earthquake in Los Angeles which I also expect to be indicted for," Hoffman said in Madison, N.J., Thursday night.

Also charged but not yet indicted in connection with the Mayday demonstrations are two other alumni of the Chicago conspiracy trial in which five persons, Hoffman included, were convicted of interstate travel to promote a riot.

The two are Mayday leader Rennie Davis and John Froines, a former University of Oregon chemistry professor and a close friend of Davis. They are charged with conspiring to violate the civil rights of Washington area residents and interfere with federal workers by blocking traffic.

Steps taken by police to abort the announced tieup, including suspension of standard arrest procedures while hauling in thousands of persons, were cited in the suit filed against Mitchell and Wilson Thursday.

Louisiana Fraud Case to Jury

By JERRY ESTILL

Associated Press Writer

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The five-week fraud and conspiracy trial of state Atty. Gen. Jack Gremlion and two other men charged in connection with the defunct Louisiana Loan and Thrift Corp. was expected to go to the jury today.

The prosecution finished its closing arguments Thursday morning and the attorney for defendant Ernest Bartlett spent the afternoon pleading with the jury to acquit his client.

Attorneys for Gremlion and the other defendant, state Rep. Salvador Anzelmo, were to present their closing statements today.

U.S. Dist. Judge Alvin B. Rubin said he hopes to have time to charge the jury later today and allow deliberations to begin.

The jurors have gone home each night during the trial, but will be kept together after delib-

Homecoming Held for Yellow Creek Church, Founded 1897

Seventy-four years ago, May 2, 1897, the Yellow Creek Church building was dedicated, and it was decided at that time to hold home coming annually the first Sunday in May.

As time went by, the older members either passed away or moved to some other location, therefore, interest declined and the annual celebration was discontinued for a number of years.

A few years ago, one member, W. M. (Bye) Dillard, revived the interest and the celebration was resumed on May 2, 1954.

The 1971 homecoming was again on May 2 with many of the old timers attending where they met friends of yesteryears and erations begin.

The government's case was summed up Thursday by Edward J. Barnes Jr., a special attorney for the Justice Department.

He said the defendants deceived state and federal officials, the public and their own stockholders.

The Justice Department attorney said Gremlion had a financial interest in the firm and helped to organize it.

"Whenever a stumbling block appeared in the path of the company, Mr. Gremlion was there to lift it out of the way," said Barnes.

Bartlett's attorney, Jerome Winsberg, said the government failed to show that Bartlett acted with any criminal intent. Winsberg said Bartlett never acted in bad faith and only followed the advice of his attorneys.

He conceded that Bartlett made changes in stock records and in minutes of board meetings, but said this "was making the books reflect what the facts were" in line with his duties as chief executive officer of the corporation.

Conviction on all 15 counts would be punishable by a maximum fine of $60,000 and up to 75 years in prison for each defendant.

Cathy Feild, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Talbot Feild, Jr., is shown in her ball gown for the Holiday-in-Dixie Cotillion Court in Shreveport, where she was the Duchess of Arkansas.

The annual Holiday in Dixie was held the week of April 26 in Shreveport in the municipal auditorium. This year the setting for the occasion was Old Vienna.

The duchess who was chosen to represent Arkansas was Miss Cathy Feild, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Talbot Feild Jr. of Hope.

The duchesses wore identical gowns and dainty aurora borealis tiaras. The dresses, of diaphanous silk organza in pink-blushed sea coral, were created with sleeveless basque bodices. Crystal beading defined the off-shoulder décolletages, dipping into low V's at the back.

The bouffant skirts terminated in double rows of fluted organza ruffles finished with brush trains.

Each duchess carried a basket of woven iridescent straw filled with coral cymbidium orchids, silken green leaves and sprays of pearls.

Cathy's escort was Jack Clary Murrell Jr.
